

Dr. Valerie Egdell

Senior Research Fellow
Employment Research Institute
Edinburgh Napier University
Scotland, United Kingdom

Biography

Dr. Egdell's research interests and publications are concerned with youth and older worker transitions; the Capability Approach; employment activation; public service delivery; informal care; and welfare reform. Dr. Egdell has a degree in Geography from Durham University, UK; and an MA in Human Geography Research and a PhD from Newcastle University, UK. Her PhD examined how carers of people with dementia mobilise their support networks and draw social, cultural and emotional resources to manage the demands of informal care.

Vanesa Fuertes

Research Fellow

Employment Research Institute

Edinburgh Napier University

Scotland, United Kingdom

Biography

Ms Fuertes's research interests and publications are concerned with the governance of labour market policies, labour market disadvantaged, employability, recurrent poverty and older workers. Ms Fuertes obtained a degree in Sociology and Political Sciences from the Universidad Complutense de Madrid (Spain), and completed an MSc in Social Research at Edinburgh Napier University. Ms Fuertes is currently undertaking a PhD that examines the governance and coordination of labour market policies at local level.